Physical Education Division

Lynn V. Conway

Elanore M. Thompson

The philosophy of the Physical Education is to provide stimulating athletic activities for as many students as possible. The flexibility of this division enables it to vary its program according to the immediate needs of the students and faculty of the college.

Business Division

The aim of the Business Division is to teach the basic and advanced skills necessary to the successful business person.

Some courses taught are: shorthand, typing, filing, machine calculation, data processing, and advertising.

Organizations

College Council

The College Council works unrelentlessly to maintain a local form of "government of the people, by the people, and for the people." The Council has one member from each organization and several from the student body as a whole. Organizing and governing student affairs in a democratic manner is the main task of Delta's College Council.

Activity board members: Pat La Valley, June Black, Janet Brubaker, Lois Echert, Hector Reese, and Bob Schmidt. These members, along with a number of others, discuss and plan future events at Delta.

Member of the Judicial Board are: Carole Greko, Advisor Kenneth Heafield, Gordon DeWitt, Bruce Grauf, Bert Schafer, Janet Brubaker, Mary Ann Gerschefske.

Holders of the purse strings are finance board members who are: Barb Brady, Ralph Morand, Bob Lewandowski, Carol Gehringer, Lois Eckert.

College Council members are involved in serious debate over a pressing problem.

Vets Club

The Vet's Club is another of Delta's leaders when it comes to arousing school spirit and promoting school activities. To accomplish its goals the club sponsors the highly successful Christmas dance, the all male voters Miss Delta contest, and the frolicking Snow Carnival. The Vet's Club is one to be proud of.

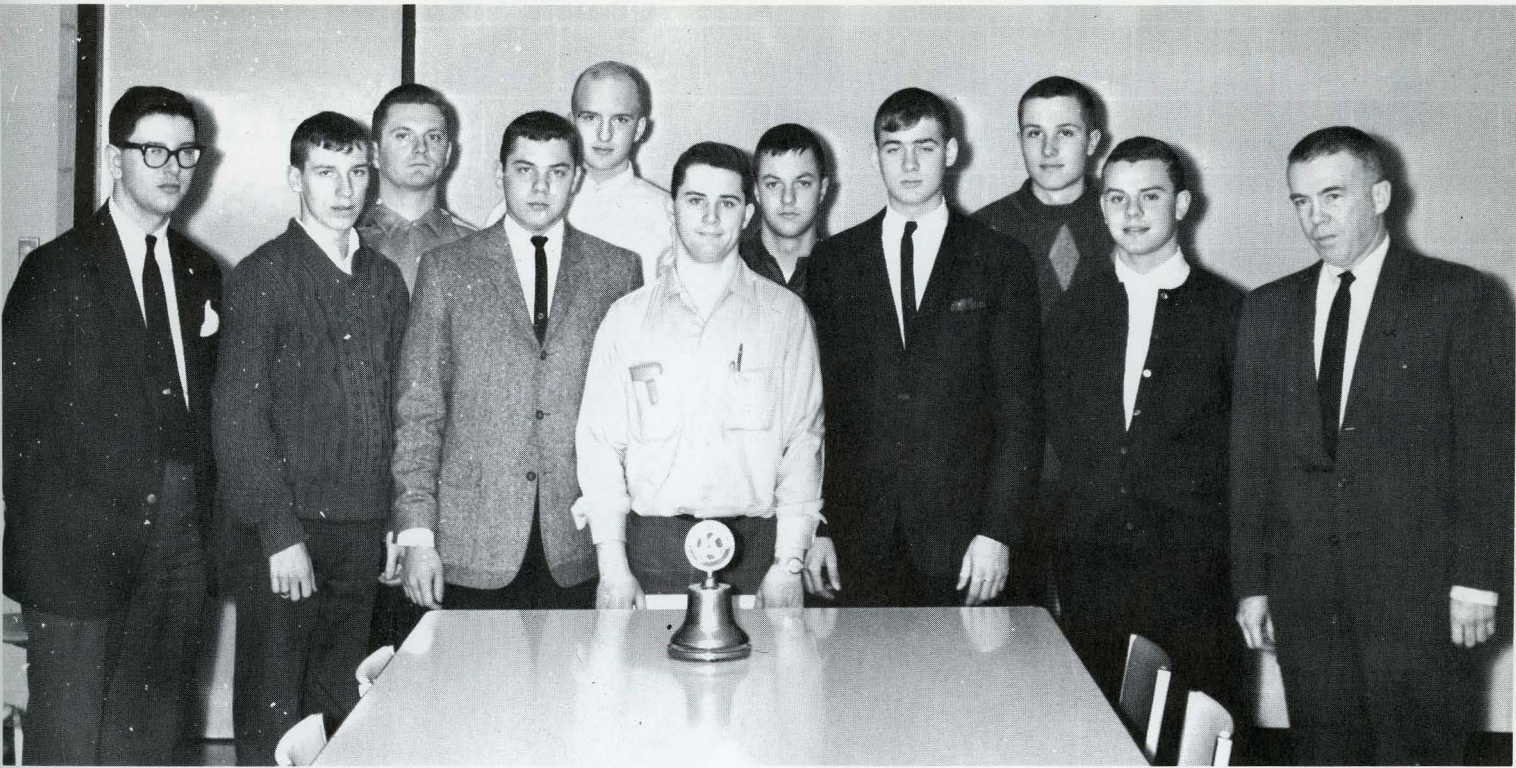

The Captain flanked by his lieutenants.

Others in the squad. The rest of the company is out in the field.

Circle K

Circle K is a young counter part to the Kiwanis Clubs. Its main interest is to give constructive service to the college. At registration time it aids new students by finding transportation in the form of car pools.

Bruce Wetzel, under their advisor Kenneth Heafield's watchful eye, conducts their weekly meeting.

Weight Club

Wrestling Club

The Wrestling Club, one of the active organizations on campus, teaches the fundamentals of the sport of wrestling to Delta students. The important means of learning these rules is actual man to man combat.

Two students are involved in actual man to man combat while a third student referees.

Public Affairs

Just as the title suggests, the Public Affairs Club is concerned with matters of interest to the general public as well as those at Delta College. Many touchy subjects have been discussed this past year by speakers brought in by the Public Affairs Club.

People To People

People to People involves students in activities that will bring them into contact with individuals of other nationalities. It is the objective of this club to operate as independent of government restrictions as possible. The big project of the organization this year was the book drive for Asian students.

Ski Club

O.K. gang, let's get this show on the road.

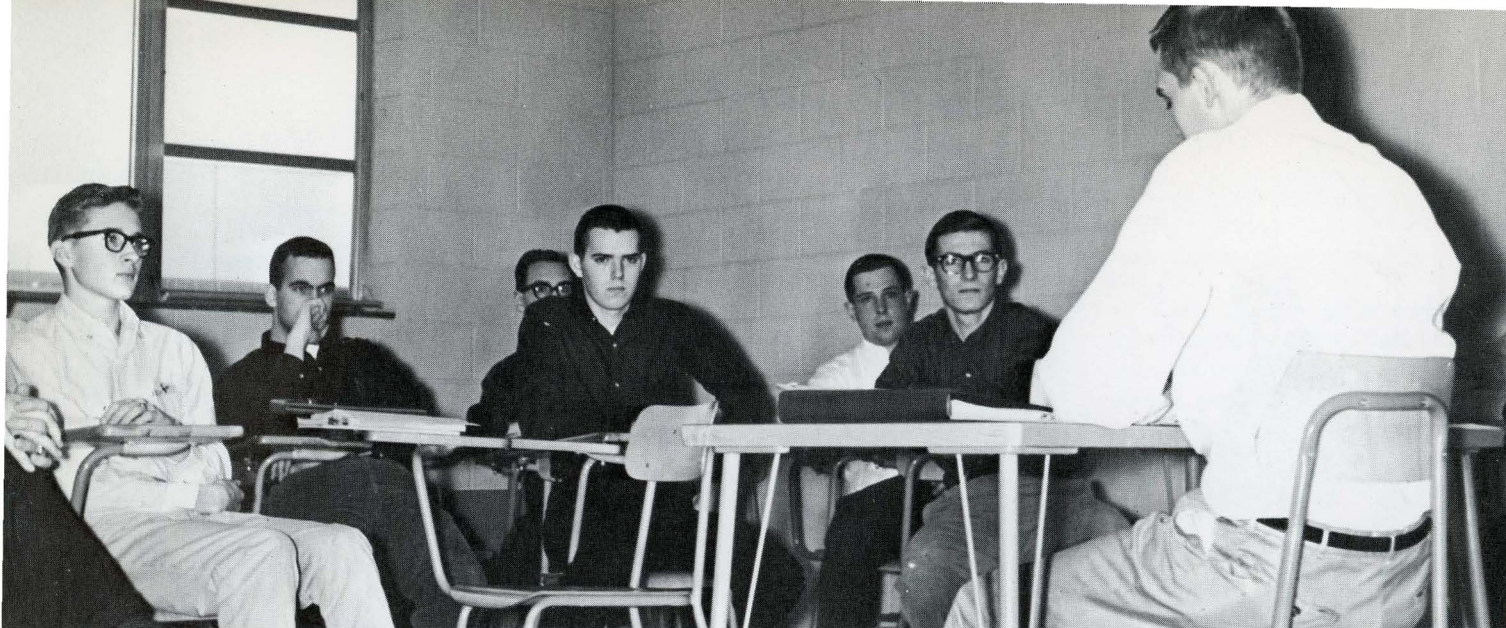

"Off we go into the wild blue yonder."

The line up: Bob Lewandowski, Frank Whalen, Terry Windiate, Larry Bane, Sue Piechowiak, Julie Vaughn, Terry Klein.

Getting the fine points of flying calls for heavy concentration.

"Up in the air junior birdsmen
Up in the air upside down
Up in the air junior birdsmen
Keep your noses off the ground."

Flying Club

If you really want to fly Delta Jet just tag along with this way out club.

The Bomber squad minus one.

Young Republicans

The purpose of the Young Republicans is to acquaint the students with the Republican views and leading figures of the party. The club provides for the students an opportunity for political expression and recognition. The club sponsors the showing of pertinent films and has brought many prominent speakers to Delta.

This club was one of many who sponsored an exhibit at the "Who's Back Dance."

Intervarsity Christian Fellowship

The Bible is a dominant factor in Intersarsity meetings.

Intersarsity Christian Fellowship is open to students of all denominations who desire to promote better understanding and tolerance between religious faiths.

Singing together is a good beginning for understanding.

A moment of contemplation for: Dr. Tungstall, Dorothy Teckac, Jean Haskin, Bill Cowdry, Chuck Bailey, Don Hackett.

Wesley Foundation is the Methodist sponsored student group on campus. It is open to all students who desire Christian fellowship, study and the opportunity of service with other college students. In addition to the weekly discussions, the group sponsored a sleigh ride, and an all college Talent Convocation. Ministers and businessmen from the surrounding community gave speeches at various times during the year on such topics as Foreign Relations, Christian Counselling, and Science vs. Religion.

Newman Club

Father Lacki, Chaplain and Father Murdick, Superintendent of Saginaw Diocese Schools preside over a Newman Discussion class.

The Newman Club promotes a program of religious, intellectual, and social activities for the Catholic students at Delta College. The religious program includes Communion Breakfast, a Day of Recollection, and a Pre-Cana Conference, for students planning marriage in the near future. The club has brought in speakers, and also holds discussions during both day and evening college. Social activities include dances, parties, and hayrides.

Women's League

Women's League is the group on campus that serves the needs and interests of the women of Delta. It endeavors to maintain high standards through cooperation with the administration and student organizations. The main projects of the group include "Common Knowledge," the girls' Fall get-acquainted supper; the Christmas Dessert, which included a visit from Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus this year; The Most Irresistible Man contest, the winner of which is crowned, most appropriately, at the Valentine's Dance; and the Mother and Daughter banquet in the Spring.

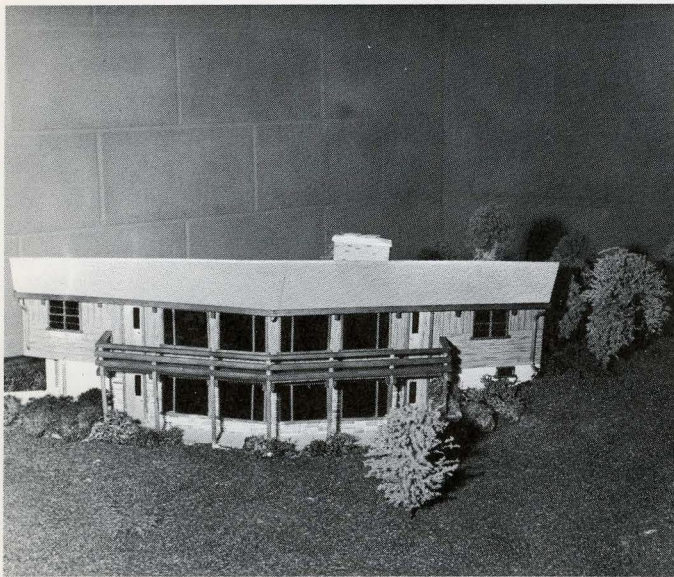

Women League Members: Pam Payton, Sue Schram, Jan Moessner, Helen Moll, Carolyn Gagnon, Gail Lance, Sue Pfund, Sue Walters, Connie Brown.

Makes you feel safe about the quality of your homes.

Architecture

Here a technical point is under consideration.

To build a durable yet attractive structure with a complimentary landscape, it takes skill and patience. The Architecture Club was organized to help instill such characteristics in its members. These students are the future designers of America's external beauty.

Stones and Bones

"Aw come on fellas, it's not that bad is it?"

Here are our future Geologists and Archeologists. Members of the Stones and Bones Club learn the fine points of rock and bone hunting. The past is of great interest to these students and the stones and bones of past geologic ages helps them to discover what life was like millions of years ago.

"Them bones, them bones, them dry bones."

"This is quartz (I think)"

Science Club

The purpose of the Science Club is to make available to interested students the facilities and funds for conducting special experiments, and to discuss with other students subjects relating to the science field. The club also has science film series on such subjects as astronomy and sea life.

A bit of scientific humor.

Pep Club

The Pep Club, as the name suggests, is full of school spirit and tries to instill its enthusiasm into the school as a whole. At any sports event the club may be seen in all its glory.

A jolly looking bunch, huh?

Marge Krause and Pete Schilling work at putting together the Dialogue.

DIALOGUE

The top creative efforts of students are reproduced in Delta's literary and art review. Dialogue gives any interested student the chance to express himself in words or pictures. Perhaps through this magazine, another Frost or Rembrandt may be discovered. The world is full of creative people and Delta College has a great many of them.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS

The Young Democrats are those students interested in the principles, and leading figures in the Democratic party. The group brought in speakers, and held discussions on topics such as: Civil Rights, Tax Cuts, and Problems of Young Democrats.

SPECIAL EVENTS

Livonia, here we come!

Mr. James O'Neil explains his stand.

On October 3 a line of fifty-five cars filled with Delta students proceeded south on I-75 to the home of Mr. James O'Neil, member of the State Board of Education, in Livonia. The purpose of the demonstration was to dramatize the students' desire to establish a four-year degree-granting institution on Delta's campus. The motorcade was well organized from the outset and unity was achieved by means of two-way radios.

The motorcade was successful inasmuch as it showed the people of the area and of the state that Delta students know what they want and are not afraid to go after it.

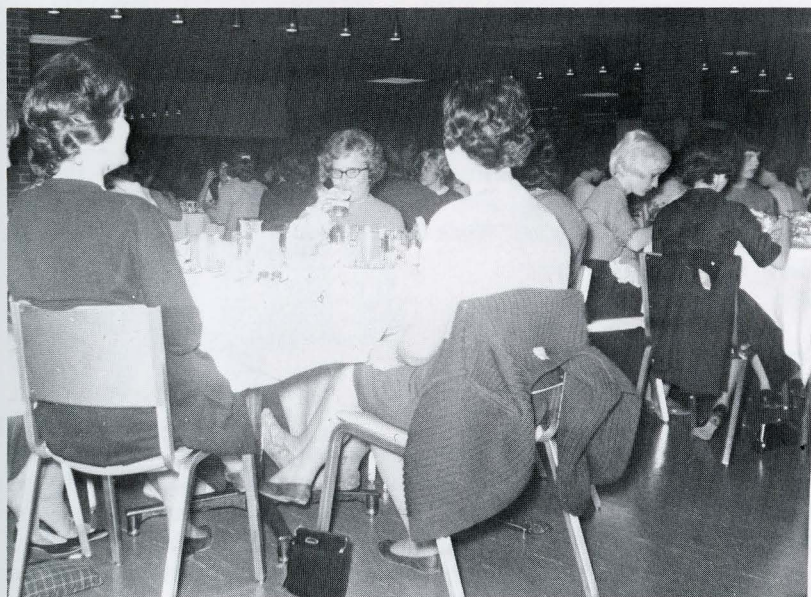

Lani Hoyle demonstrates an authentic Hawaiian Hula.

Nancy Kempf sings for her audience "The More I See You".

Common

Knowledge

Delta women forgot to count calories in order to enjoy their Italian dinner.

The Women's League of Delta College held a spaghetti dinner in the Commons on October 17, for the members of the fairer sex of Delta. The girls were entertained in the Lecture Theatre immediately following the dinner. Officers and representatives of the Women's League were installed at this time.

The Lettermen: Tony Butala, Tim Pike, and Bob Engerman.

Mr. Ira Lehn entertains at Delta.

The Lettermen, a well-known singing group, drew approximately 2,000 to the Delta gymnasium on the evening of October 9. They opened the concert with a rousing "Hey Look Me Over" and continued with many of their great hits. The Lettermen injected a little comedy into their show, and topped off the evening with a medley of tunes from the musical "West Side Story."

A special musical program was presented for the student body of Delta College on November 6 in the Lecture Theatre. The solo performance was presented by Mr. Ira Lehn, a cellist of national reputation. Mr. Lehn is presently assistant professor of Music at the University of California.

Ruth Ann Koesun costumed for "Billy the Kid."

The "Grand Pas-glazounov," "Billy the Kid," and "Divertissements from Napoli" were the performances given by the American Ballet Theatre at Delta on November 4.

In May, 1962, the company (world famous dancers and symphony orchestra) performed at the White House before the late President and Mrs. Kennedy and their guests, President and Mrs. Houphouet-Boigny of the Ivory Coast. In 1960 Premier and Mrs. Khrushchev attended the Ballet's final performance in Moscow.

The audience at Delta was extremely impressed with the Ballet's interpretation of "Billy the Kid" in which costumes of the era were worn, including guns, boots, and 10-gallon hats.

Royes Fernandez is a star performer in the Ballet.

Stories were told.

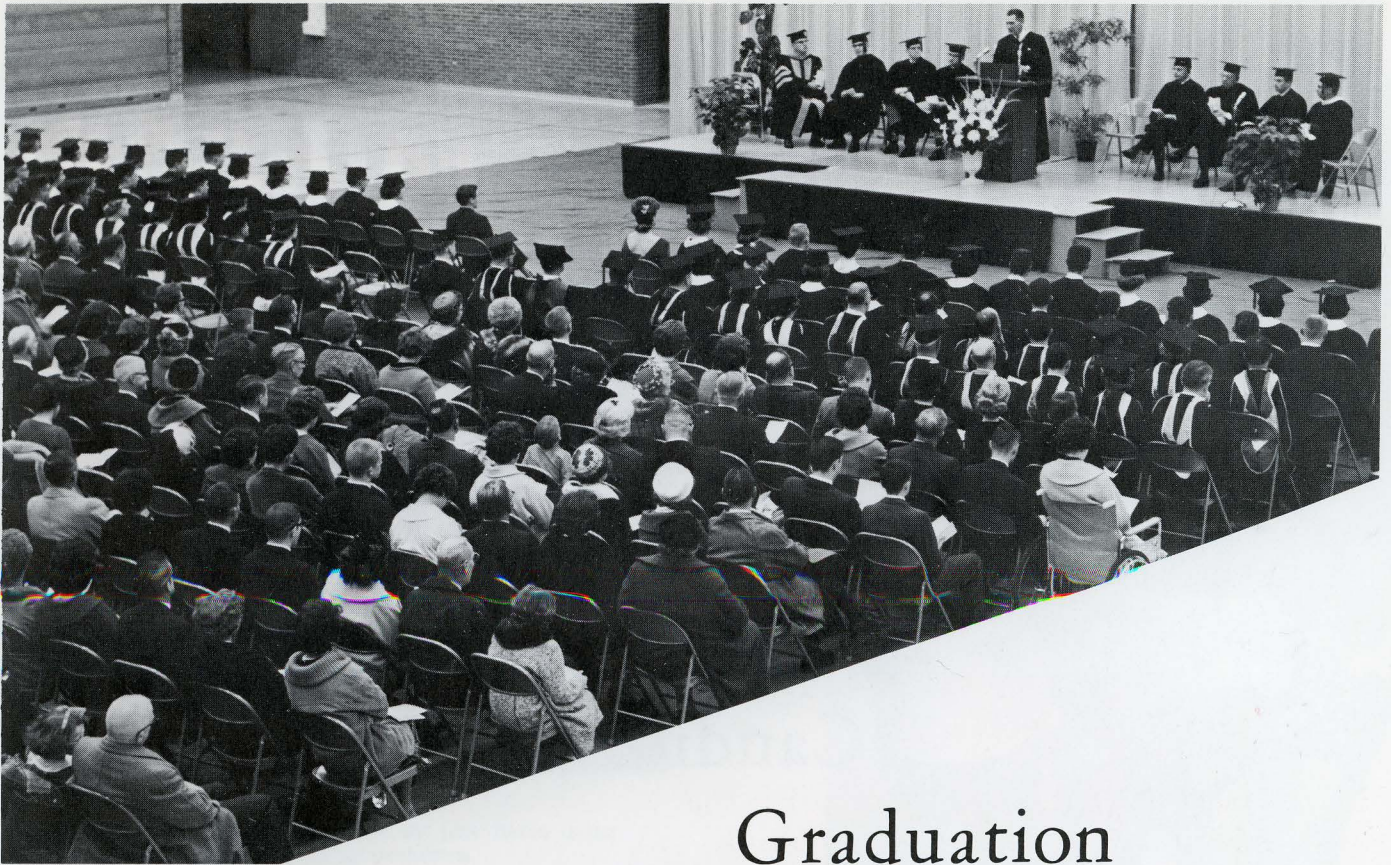

Songs were sung.

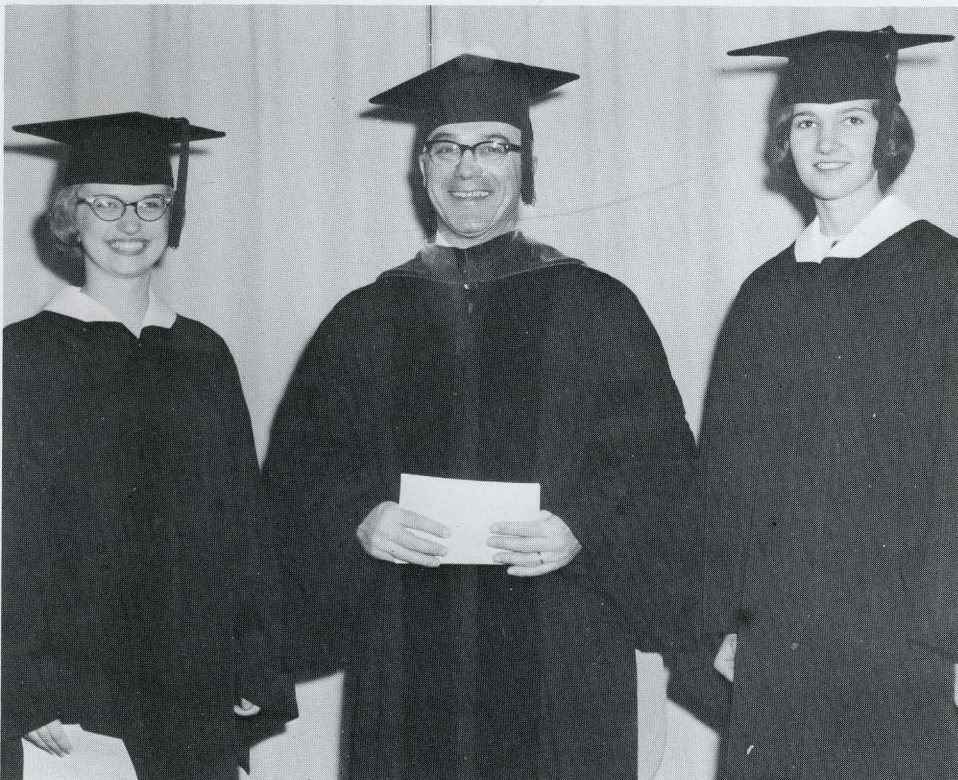

The people listened.

The annual Christmas convocation for the Delta student body was held on December 12, at 11 in the gymnasium. Dr. Marble, Dean Krathwohl, Dr. Vosburgh, and Gordon Dewitt were the speakers at the program, each expressing his wishes for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to all. The students were delighted with each of the speakers' interpretations of Christmas which covered the Christ Child's Birth to Santa Claus and the always delightful Christmas shopping. The choir entertained with various Christmas selections, and the program was made complete when the audience was asked to join in with "Jingle Bells" and "Silent Night."

Graduation

The Durman Award for outstanding achievement for the 1963 winter trimester was awarded to Louise Bode. The Durman Award is given by Dr. Donald Durman, Saginaw Board of Trustee member. Judy Rae-deke was the recipient of the Board of Trustees Scholarship. Sixty-three students were graduated at the December 22, 1963, commencement. The keynote speaker, Professor Thomas E. Jones, Consultant for the Association of American Colleges, spoke on "A Community Understanding."

Christmas Interlude

Students were pleased to dance or just listen to the music of Bob Alexander and his orchestra.

The Bay City Consistory was the setting of Delta's 1963 Christmas Interlude. The annual Christmas dance, held on December 21, was sponsored by the Delta Veterans Association, who chose "The Joy of Giving," as this year's theme. The highlight of the evening's entertainment was the Coronation of this year's Miss Delta, Linda Boukamp, by Cheryl Geyer, Miss Delta of 1962.

Who's Back Dance

Some students left Delta after the Fall Trimester, and so a dance was held in Januray to find out who was back. . . .

Miss Delta, Linda Boukamp, extends greetings.

Prexy Marble and wife . . . Dean Krathwohl and the missus.

. . . . and to help new students get acquainted.

Registration Day

The seven IBM cards are filled out in the first step of registration.

The ID cards are activated, making them usable for another trimester.

Student registration workers sort out the schedule cards.

Conflicts in scheduling are ironed out with the help of Miss Corbishley.

Registration is that moment (hours) when the students officially register, pay tuition, and make any changes where conflicts occur between classes. If the latter does not occur, registration takes about 15 minutes. If a conflict does occur in a student's schedule, we can only say, "Chin up, you'll have the whole trimester to recover." Delta College is proud, however, to have in its possession an IBM computer which eliminates the manual work of student scheduling.

Ski Trip

Holiday Hills at Traverse City was the picturesque setting of the January 18-19 ski trip, sponsored by the Delta Ski Club. The weekend schedule included skiing, dancing, and fun.

Larry Bane, Frank Whalen, and Norris Klopf wait to board the chartered bus, which left Delta at 5:30 A.M. for Holiday Hills.

Frank Whalen's smile depicts the terrific time had by all during the weekend.

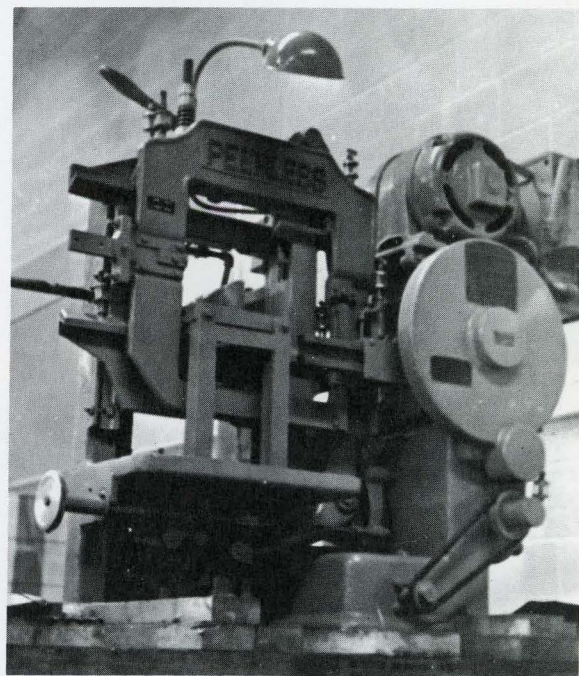

Ah, this sure beats climbing. This is one of two lifts which were utilized at the ski lodge.

Opening of Technical Wing

The new technical wing of Delta College was completed this year though not yet occupied. A large amount of machinery has been placed in the building and is being readied for use. When in use the students will have the opportunity to work with this large machinery. This new wing of the college will add to the over all capacity of the college to train its students.

Castro Singers

In February, convocation month, students were entertained by the Castro Brothers Plus One. The group from Uruguay, South America came as a cultural exchange, showing through music and dance some of their native customs.

Students look on with enthusiasm, at the performance given by the Castro Brothers Plus One.

Delta Co-op Students

Lufkin Rule

Working in the Electronics Department of Lufkin Rule in Saginaw is William Dean of Linwood.

Co-operative Education

Delta College is one of the sixty colleges and universities in the United States that has a large co-operative education program. Students from Delta work in industry, business, and professional offices at the types of work that they are studying in college for their lifetime profession. Some of our students attend school part of the time during the day and work the rest of the day, while others attend school one trimester and then work the next trimester. These students are paid wages while they are working, and the money earned towards paying their college expenses is one of the attractive points of the program. However, there are many other advantages that we should note. The training that they get from the industry itself is very valuable. A firsthand observance of problems and the many details of professions and jobs helps the student decide if he is on the right curriculum in college. The experience that he gains on the job will open up many full-time jobs upon graduation where only experienced personnel will be hired. Delta has 355 students working in co-operative education. These are in business, engineering, mechanical technology, chemical technology, medical technology, pharmacy, technical architecture, and many others. We have pictured in this book only a sampling of the many types of jobs which Delta students are doing. We have not been able to list all of the co-operative students or all of the training spots in industries and businesses because of the large number of students and the many industries that work with Delta. We have co-operative education students in the Caro State Hospital and also in architecture offices in Detroit. Currently there are Delta co-operative students in the Wicke's Lumber Yards in all parts of the United States.

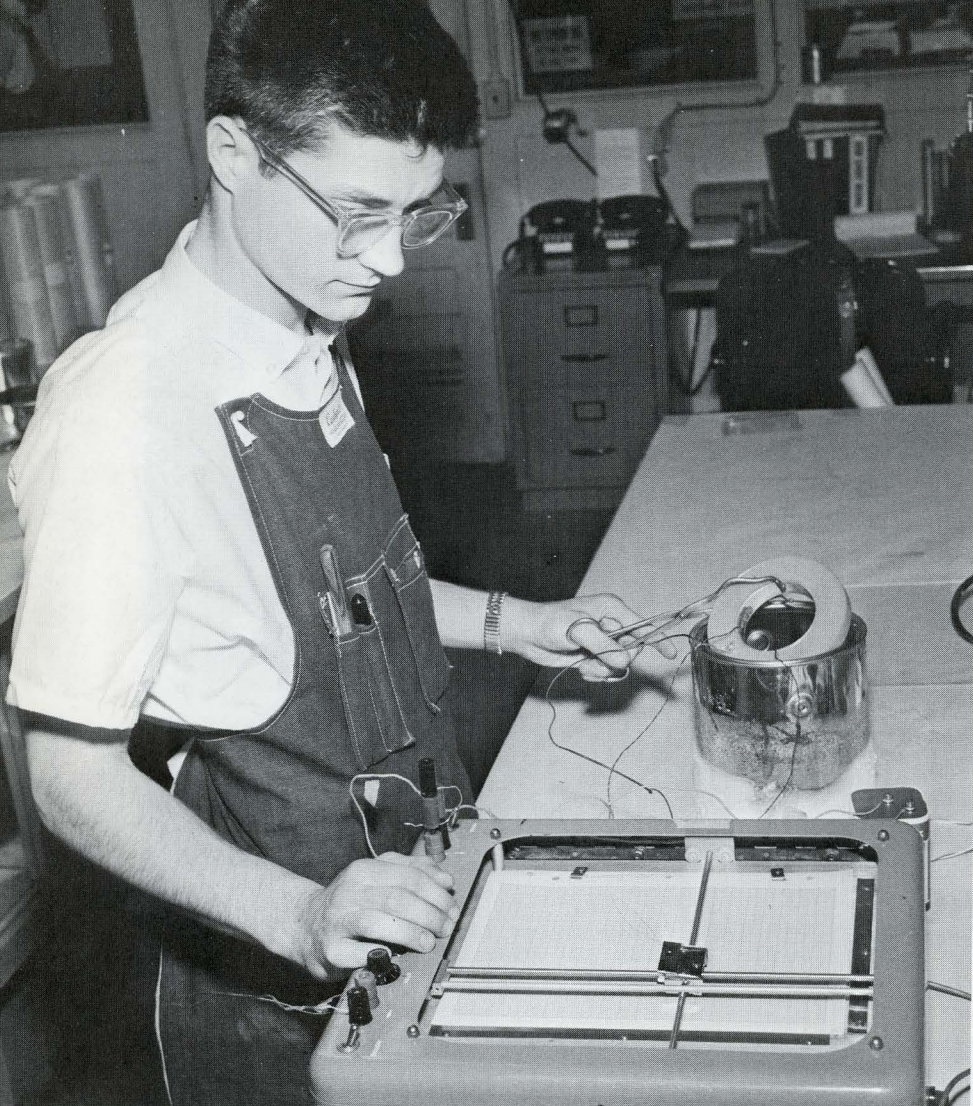

Co-oping in the Chemistry Department at Delta College, under the supervision of Marion Woodford (left), chemistry teacher, are Alan Hall, Marg Honnetry, Jim LaFore and Joe Van Hale.

Dow Chemical

James Brandt of Saginaw is at work in the Plastic Development of Dow Chemical. He is shown working with equipment that measures strain in various plastics formulations as they are subjected to severe temperature changes.

Robert Fisher of Saginaw is running thermal oxidation tests on plastics in Dow's Chemical Plastics Fundamentals Research Laboratory.

Delta's Pioneers

Look out fellas, here comes Schumacher around the turn.

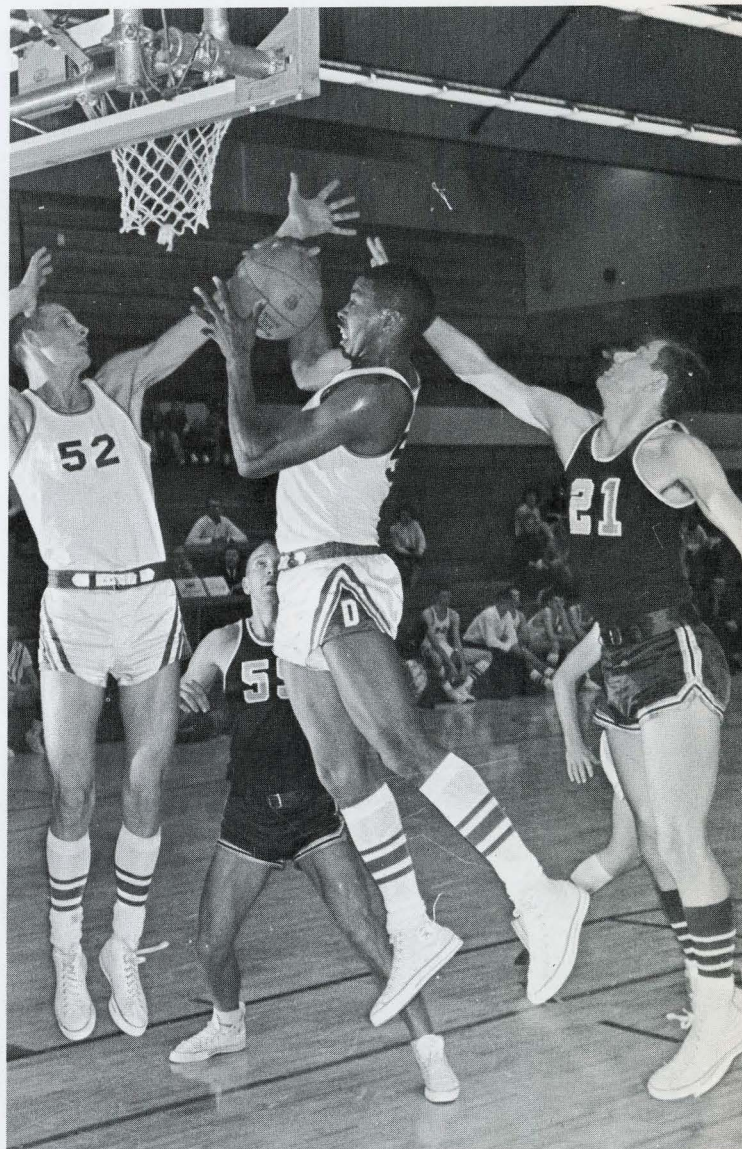

"You are getting tired, tired. You are going to drop the ball. Or doggone it get your fingers out of my eyes!"

The eyes have it (the ball that is).

• "He flies through the air with the greatest of ease. Weak toes wouldn't last too long, would they."

Bowling

Bowling is being offered as a gym credit course this year at Delta. This bowler at Bowl-O-Mat is one of the better bowlers, having a 300 game to his credit.

As the ball curves over to the left, the young lady lets go a groan.

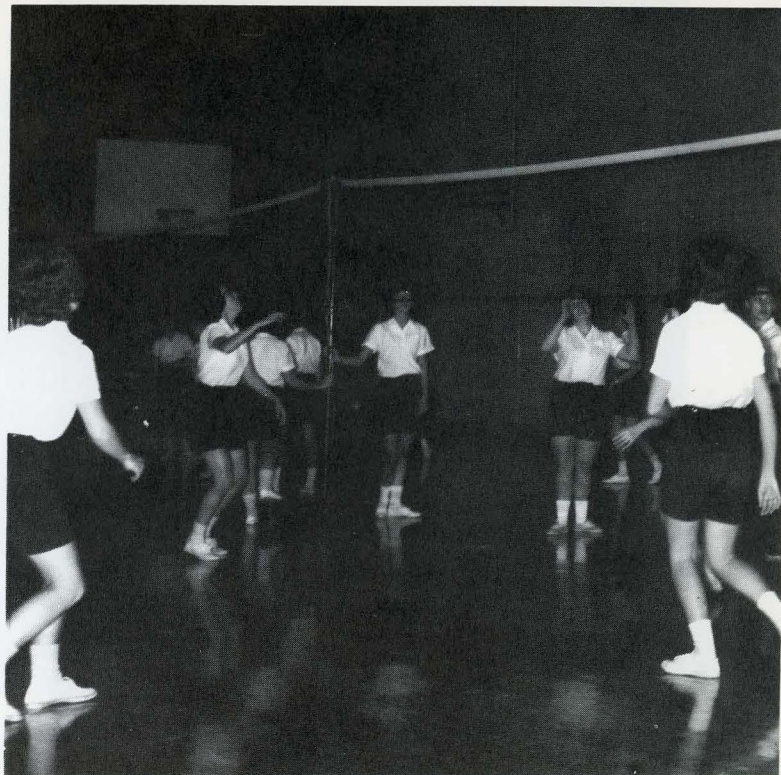

Look at that pin fly! He really throws a mean ball.

Physical Education Classes

An abundant number of intramural and free play games have taken place this year. They include:

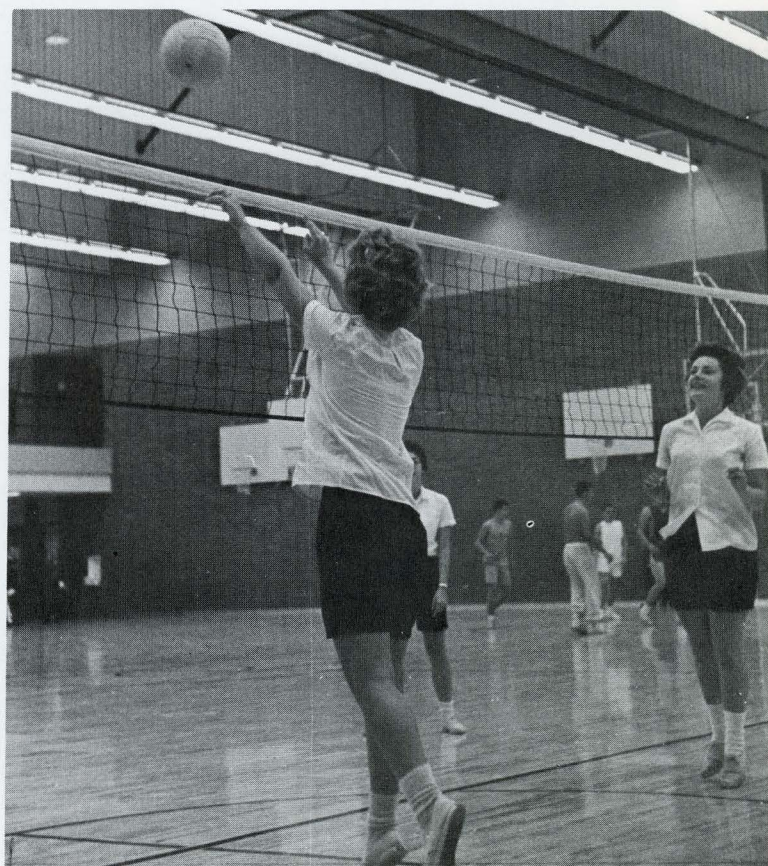

- 272 League Basketball Games
- 130 League Volleyball Games
- 5 Table Tennis Tournaments
- 18 Bowling Periods
- 62 Tennis Matches in Tournament
- 21 Rounds in Golf Tournament

These girls are waiting for action during one of many gym classes.

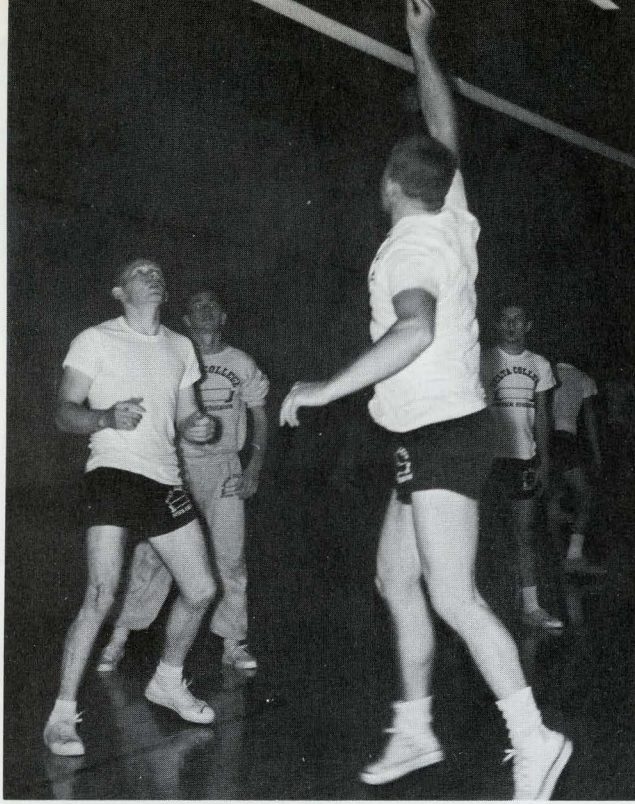

This student leaps high into the air trying to gain a point for his team.

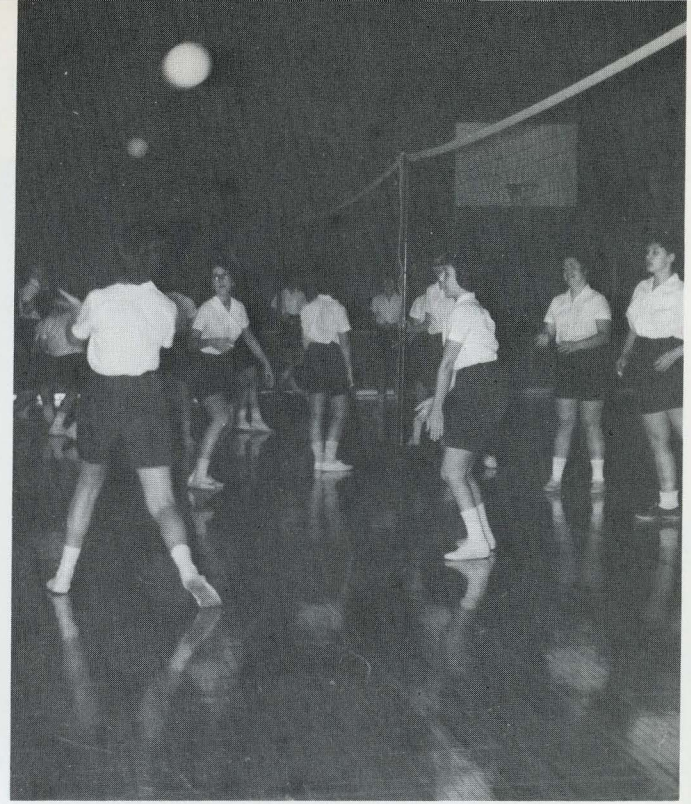

During a co-ed class a group of girls are playing volleyball, while in the background the boys participate in basketball.

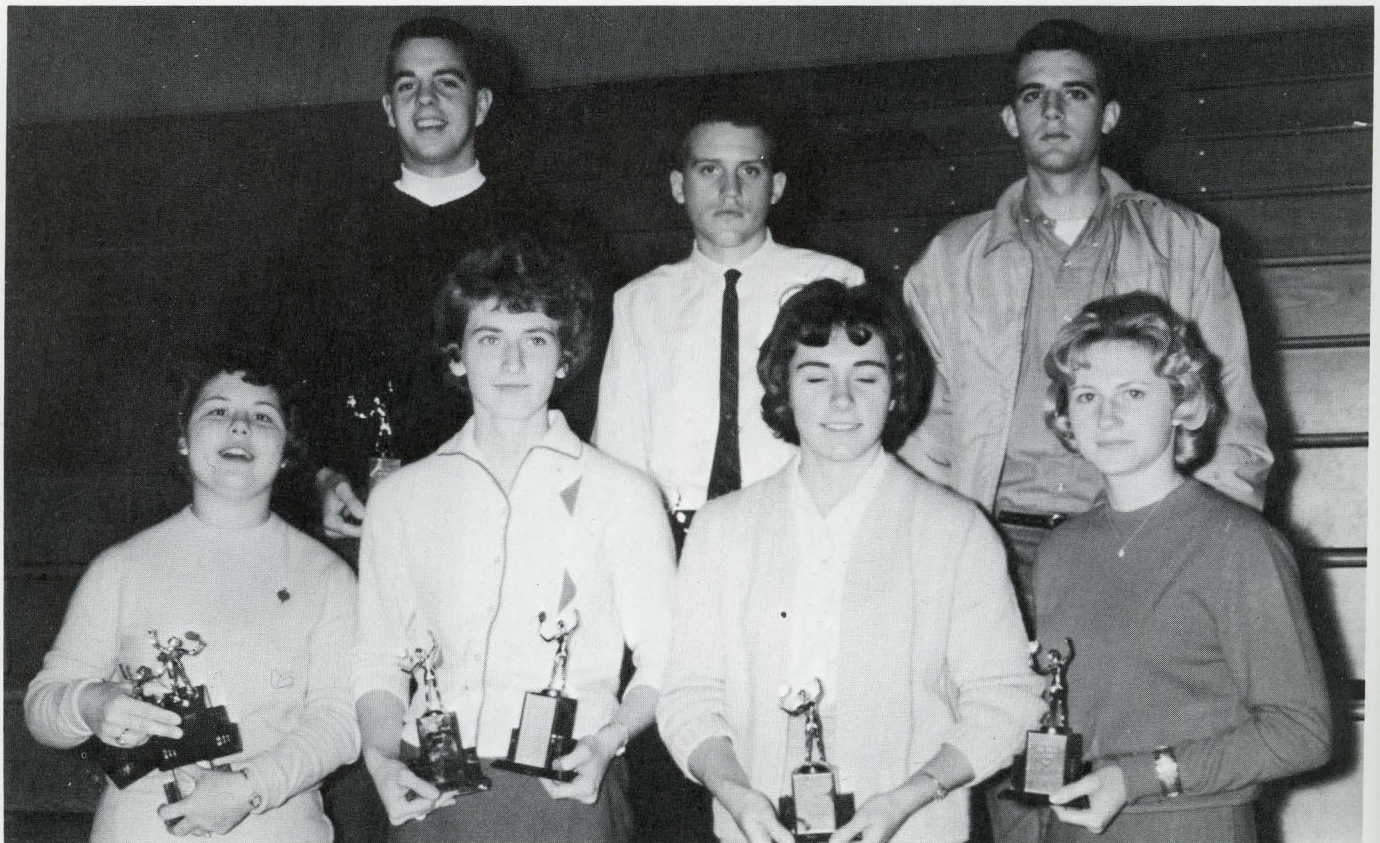

These students in team sports consider themselves pro's in volleyball.

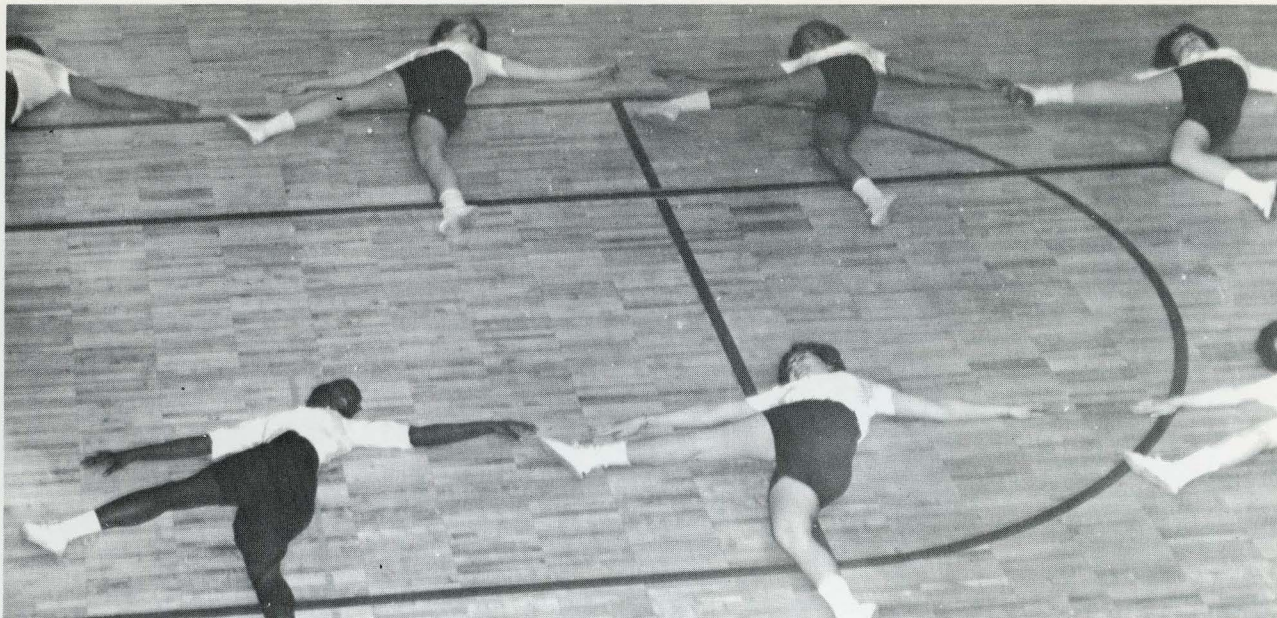

The girls also prove their expertness at the sport of volleyball.

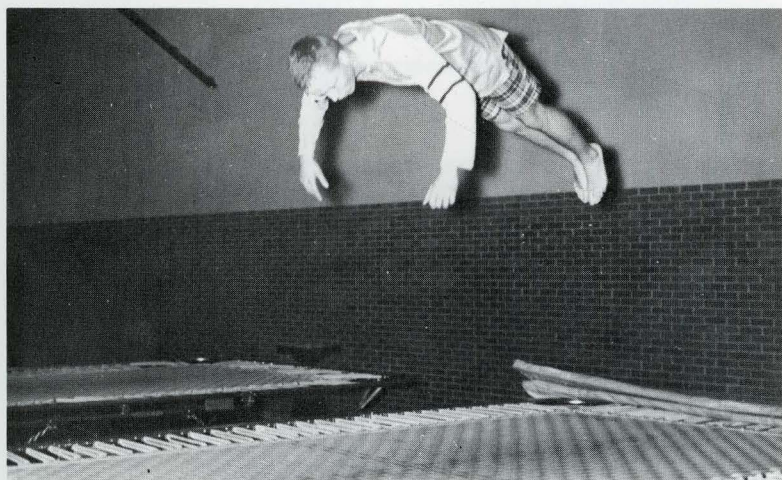

Row one: Sue Poellet, First Women's Doubles, Second Women's Singles; Pat Merrill, First Women's Doubles, First Mixed Doubles; Jan Butler, Second Women's Doubles; Jan Seder, Second Women's Doubles. Row two: Bruce Bartlett, Second Men's Doubles; Frank Tally, Second Men's Doubles, First Mixed Doubles; Grant Hynes, Second Men's Doubles.

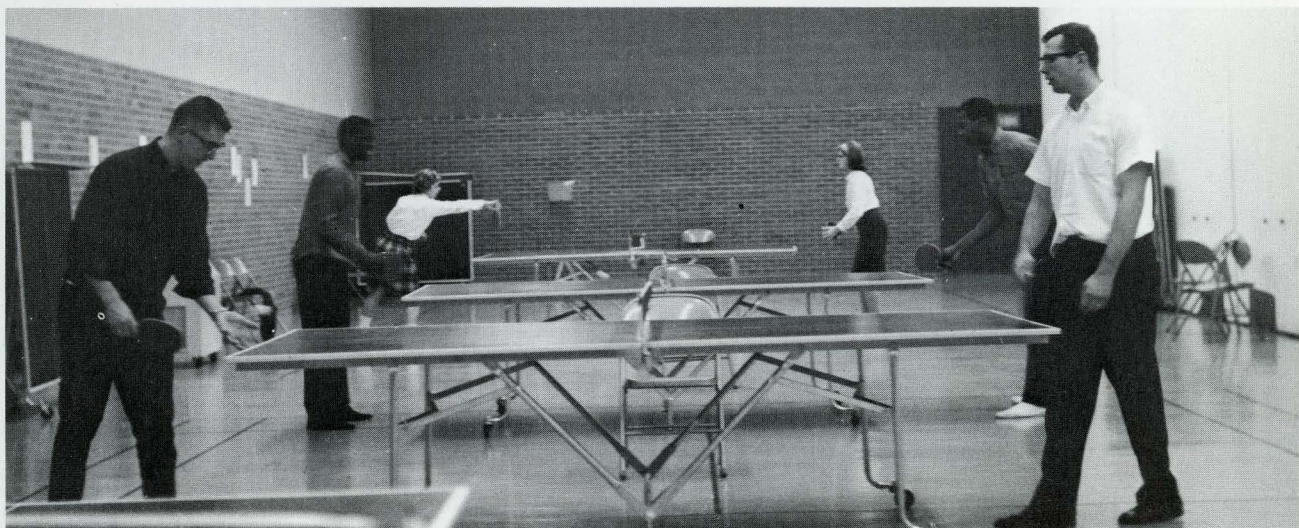

The girls' physical fitness class stretches every muscle in crossover exercises.

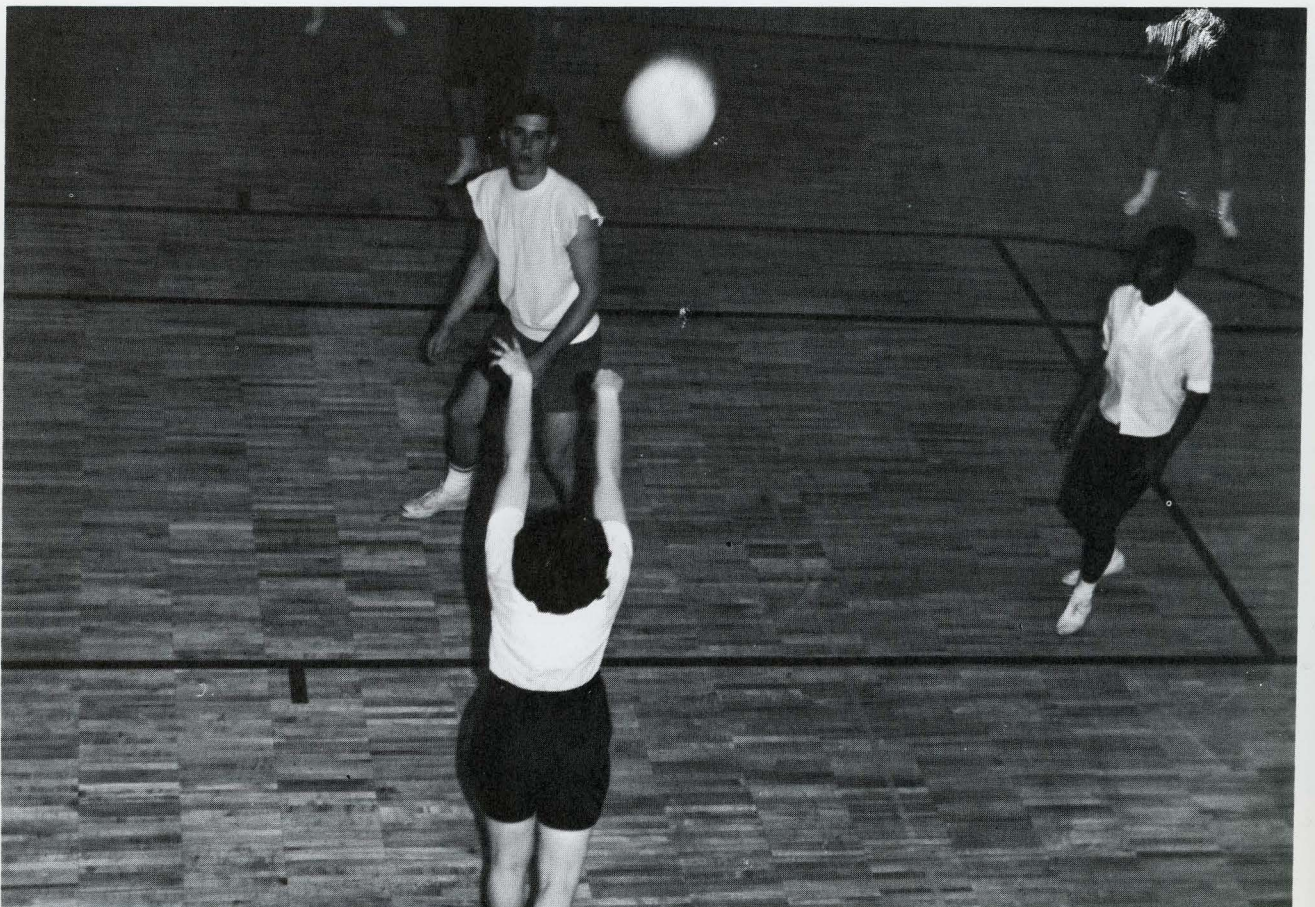

Gymnastics is offered to Delta students under the individual sports program. Ability to perform on the trampoline is displayed by a student. Students' free time can be spent playing table tennis.

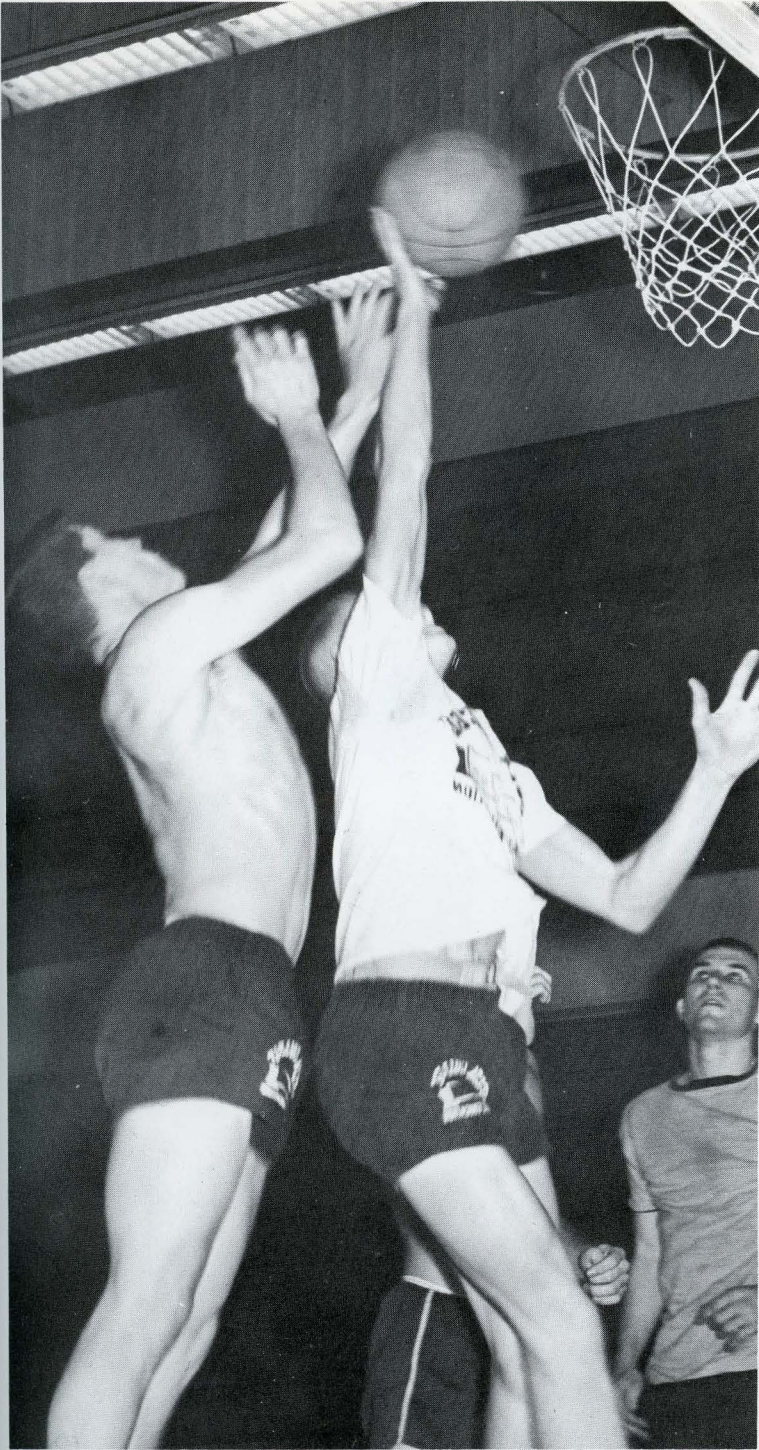

The fencing class, under Miss Thompson's able direction, learns the fundamentals of the sport.

Volleyball, both a popular gym class and pastime sport, is enjoyed and worked at by these two teams.

Intramural Basketball

"Let's get that Ball!" shouts the defensive man.

Jive Five, Five Strangers, Barbarians, Underdogs are some of the names our illustrious intramural basketball teams use. During free periods and lunch hours these teams have a basketball league in operation.

It's A basket! Winning is important in these games.

Sophomores are different. Some are individuals, some are conformists, some play the guitar, some write poetry. They get together at a table in the Commons and talk and laugh. They congregate in Womens' League and College Council and sing folk songs. They also spend time in the library, and, more important, in class.

Whatever Sophomores do, however quietly or noisily they do it, they are the backbone and core of the college. They've been around for a year, they know how things operate, and they are in a position to dictate what's in and what's out. Being a Sophomore in a two-year college is, in a way, an experience and a responsibility.

Freshmen are always easy to get to know. This year's group was not only friendly, but well-groomed as well. They found the Commons intriguing, and spent most of their time here. Studying in the library was a novelty at first, as was sitting on the brick ledges in the halls, and walking in the court.

They were becoming aware of themselves, of each other, and of the new life that is college. No matter how their year was spent, in studying, serious talks over cokes, or in having a good time, they all came out richer for it.

We all envy Freshmen their awareness, their "joi di vivre" that sets them apart. They are easily impressed, slow to convince, and made happy with a date for Friday night.

The School of Nursing assists the student in developing the knowledge, the skills, the attitudes and appreciation of values necessary for today's professional nurse. The neighboring hospitals, including St. Lukes and Pontiac State Hospital play an all important role in the clinical experience a student in nursing must have. The foundation courses in humanities, social sciences and natural sciences are gained in the classroom at Delta. The College of Nursing's major objective is to develop a skillfully trained nurse, but the development of a responsible and creative citizen is also of major importance.

Mildred Keene, a freshman in microbiology learns one of the variety of tests necessary in the nursing course.

Continuing Education Division

The Evening College and Continuing Education Division at Delta offer formal and informal programs, credit and non credit and certificate courses for adults. The college credit courses available in the Delta day school are also offered in the evening. Special interest courses as Computer and Programming for Business and Traffic Management are examples of Evening College Credit courses of this type. Delta also sponsors a large and rapidly growing number of preprofessional, professional, and work oriented inservice training programs for adults in the area. Professional experts in the different fields developed the Engineering Refresher Course, Seminar in Labor Relations, and Certified Professional Secretaries Review. With the variety of programs offered, all are able to find a program of special interest to them in Delta's Evening Education Program.

The engineering refresher course consists of studies in mathematics, statics, and dynamics and prepares the student for state boards.

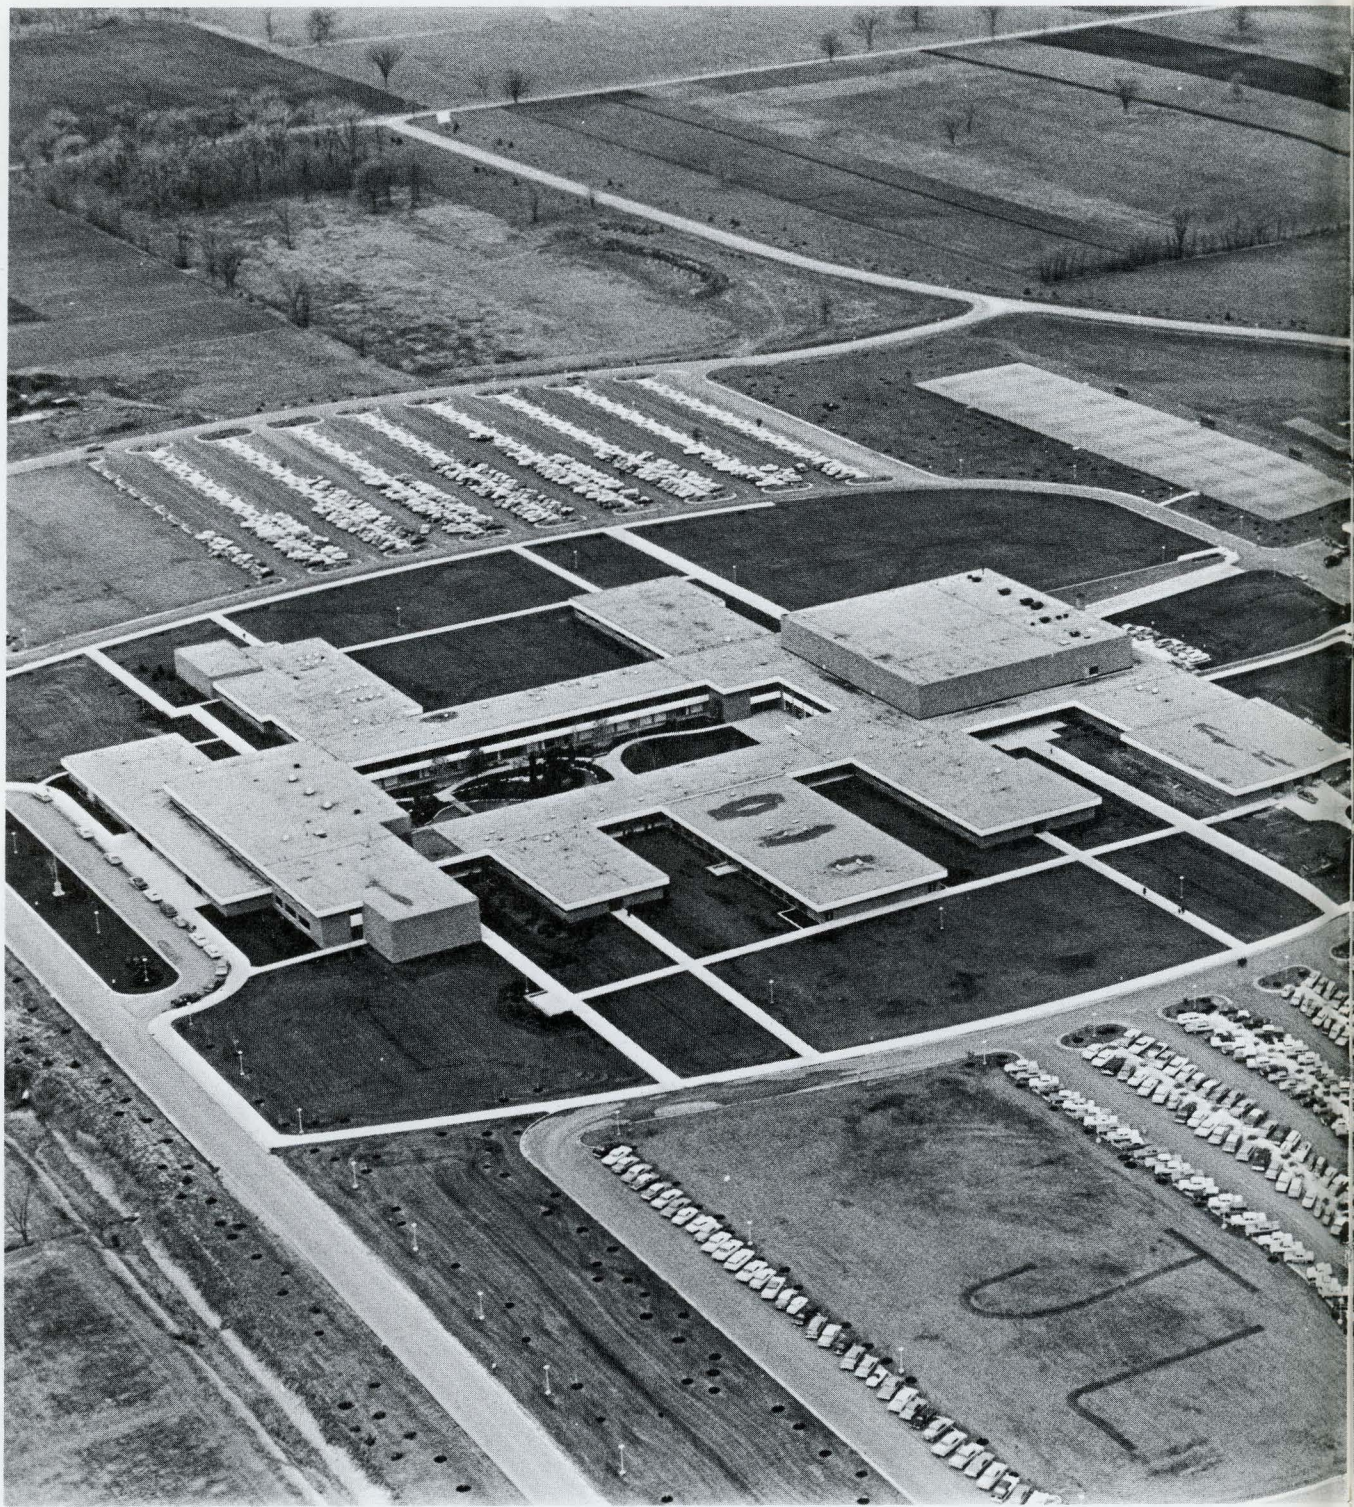

Computer programming for business taught by Charles Ferguson, makes use of the IBM computer machinery at Delta.

Wage earners, family business interests, investors in securities and real estates have an opportunity to hear cases and practice problems discussed by Weston L. Sheldon.

Dear Graduates:

Leonardo de Vinci once said, "In rivers, the water that you may touch is the last of what has passed and the first of that which comes: so with time present".

And so it with you. You are now at an end and at a beginning. Use your education to gain wisdom, strength and a successful life.
